Emu Consulting is a business in South Australia which specialises in communication, community engagement and educational services.

In 2022, Emu Consulting invited Carers involved in child protection across Australia to participate in a survey to capture information regarding child protection organisational and educational support.

The results of this survey and subsequent case studies will be used: 1) in training to help professionals within the child protection and educational communities better understand the needs of Carers and the children they care for in Australia and 2) to inform policy makers (including politicians) about the support needs of Carers and children in this country.

The Infographics provided along with this letter provide a summary of results. Case studies are also being captured and two are presented for your consideration. A full report is currently in development and will be available in the near future.
